LAVENSON DESIGN PROVIDES comprehensive architectural services to clients who value personalized, creative results and attention to detail. They design houses and remodels that respond to the essence of their place and their owners. The work is a balance of editing and invention, seeking order and transformation that goes beyond style. Since 1985, the firm has been acknowledged by peers and the press for award winning, thoughtful work.

RIGHT: A house in Sonoma hinges around a circular rotunda at the entrance and the rear patio, where the two stone wings of the house meet. The design developed from the clients' desires for a European style country home in the spirit of a monastery rather than a castle.

BELOW: Set downslope from the main house, a hillside pool and cabana beckon. Rustic grace, authentic materials and timeless craftsmanship are preferred at this home over opulence or formality.

OPPOSITE PAGE: Curved plaster walls with bi-folding mahogany doors, radiating beams made from recycled wood and terra cotta floor tiles from Italy combine to give a sense of warmth and indoor-outdoor flow to the rotunda.
